

permitting conductivity sensing of fluid passing through the conduit, wherein the well is adapted for interconnection with a sensor.

* * * * *